EX LIBRIS

Foreword

If, as you glance through these pages, you shall feel again the spirit of our school career, companionship, labor, and success, we will hold our effort well repaid.

Dedication

As each link adds to the length of the chain, as each stone adds to the strength of the foundation, so each year of study in our school adds to her honorable history and to her hope of future service and renoun; so to this chain, to this structure, to the Future of the Beardstown High School, we, the Senior Class of 1932, dedicate this book.

Senior Class History

As a red moon slowly rose one fall evening in 1928, a group of boys and girls sat around a fire laughing and chatting. They had been on a treasure hunt at Gravel Pit and had eaten a picnic lunch. Now they were resting and telling stories. It was the first social gathering of this Freshman class.

Early in the next year they won the tournament ticket selling contest and were entitled to a half day's holiday. They spent it with a picnic at Kuhlman Hill. It was a beautiful day when they started out. After eating a lunch, they explored a haunted house. However, a sudden down pour of rain brought their fun to an abrupt end.

The Sophomore year was not a busy one, but was spent mostly in studying and in taking part in the activities of the whole school.

When they became Juniors, the task before them was to earn enough money to entertain the Seniors at the reception. They sold pop, hot dogs, and lollypops at games and gave the Junior play, which showed hard work and talent and brought in good returns. On Washington's birthday they gave a program for the assembly appropriate to the season.

That spring they got their class rings. They were a very proud group of students. It had taken them a long time to choose the one they wanted, but everyone was satisfied when the rings arrived.

A ticket selling contest had been held for the Junior play. The losing side had to entertain the others with a party or picnic. The pic- losing side had to entertain the others by a party or picnic. The picnic was chosen and was held at Scripp's Park in Rushville where the winning side was rewarded with a freezer of lollypops. The most important and brilliant feature of this year was the Junior-Senior reception where the Juniors entertained the Seniors for several delightful hours in "Iceland."

The last year was a very full one and passed by rapidly. The first thing of importance that the class did was to give the Senior play, "That Ferguson Family." It, too, showed talent and brought good results. Later they had a party where they played cards and danced to the music of Dave Alexander's orchestra. This year, again, they entertained the assembly by giving a Washington program. The Seniors came out on top in the Annual selling contest and were entitled to take a half holiday. The remaining few weeks passed very rapidly for the Seniors because of the many events crowded into the last quarter.

This class review their high school career with satisfaction and pleasure, and are graduated with hope of worthy future achievement.

The Senior Class Prophecy

One evening as I was wandering through the city, I came to a theater. In front was a big sign which said, "Request anything you want on the screen, and it will be shown." I thought I would like to know what my classmates would do in the future, so I went in and asked the operator to show me what everyone of them was doing during anytime of his future life. This is what I saw.

The first thing that flashed on the screen was a large newspaper building. The Editor, Willis Munger, was dictating a letter to Helen Martin. In the next room were the assistant editors, Harry Beemer and Robert Strohecker. They were looking over newspaper articles and sending them to the big room. In this room were several employees using the hunt and hammer system. Three that I recognized were Brines Strong, Fred Schweer, and Reginald Moyer. Margaret Bell was writing the column of Aunt Sophia, who gave advice on love, marriage, divorces, etc., and Robert Hess was writing an "If I'm Wrong Tell Me About It" column.

Lyndon Krohe was directing the men who ran the machinery, which was being oiled by Dale Rexroat and Charles Puckhaber. The scene then flashed to the outside where I could see two men washing windows. They were Harvey Zeeck and Raymond Egbert. On the corner was a newstand, which was run by Johhny B., who also did a little bootblacking on the side.

The scene now changed to a tea shop run by Helen Garm and Doris Trainor. The waitresses were Harriette Beatty, Mary Caldwell, Helen Bandy, Elloise Buck, Edna Walls, and Dorothy Wedeking. The head cashier was Gwendolyn Sullins. A well-known orchestra was playing. It was led by Vincent Long, and some of the members I recognized were Myron Coy, Bill Corcoran, and Ogle Thomas. Their motto was "Let Long make The Time Short."

Then I saw the city of Hollywood. There John Adkins was playing in a picture as Greta Garbo's leading man. The Tapping Trio, Pauline Ideus, Anna Hering, and Hazel Tucker, were dancers in the same picture. They were trained by our old friend Henry Dufelmeier. It was being directed by Merrill Goodell. The story had been taken from Robert Hartley's latest book. Josephine Martin, the lady of the soulful eyes, was being starred in her first picture. Lillian Mosier was the owner of the voice that sang behind the scenes.

The picture now changed to a school. It was none other than our "dear old high." Maxine Harn was patiently teaching a group of pupils how to write shorthand. Mary Huey was a "gym" teacher and was instructing the girls how to keep that girlish figure. As Junior Broeker entered the study hall, everything became still, for he was the principal. Down in the basement an old man was scrubbing the floor. When I looked at him closely, I could see that he was none other than Kenneth Meyer, the new janitor.

The screen now showed a large farm. It was owned by James and Isaac Avery, who were at that time harvesting wheat. Isaac and James were doing their part to help the non-employment situation. They had hired about fifty men to help. I recognized Lee Savage, Harold Schall, and Benson Hager. Annabelle Reichert, Carolyn Scheer, and Muriel Rohn were cooking for them. Muriel at the present time, was ordering Norvel Buck to set the table.

I now saw a large office. Milton McClure, a famous lawyer, was just taking his secretary, Frances Haist, out to dinner.

Then the scene flashed to the "Old Folk's Home." Jack Schultz was just coaching the elder members in the art of football. Marion Simpson was the star member of the team, the captain of which was John Glenn.

Helen Leonard, Ollie Phelps, Pearl Wessel, and Mary Williams were sitting on the front porch watching the practice and knitting.

The screen now showed a series of shops. Lee Edda DeFraties had just opened a reducing shop, and as advertisement was using Thelma Watts as "before" and Vera Lee as "after."

Elizabeth Harrison was a collector of old Fords and other junk, among which was "Arabella."

Clarice Wilson owned a dress shop and employed Louise Wilson, Marjorie Tink, Henrietta Wright, Maxine Edwards, and Verne Shelton as models.

A series of late news was now thrown on the screen. John Buck and Genevieve Van Horn were taking part in a marathon dance, and at the present time they were one of the two last couples on the floor. Mike Myers was playing in the world series baseball games, and he gave a few instructions on how to hit a baseball with a bat. Harold Akins and Maurice Hunt were great inventors and had just invented a way to keep from carrying out ashes. That was to put in an oil furnace. Georgia Howey was making a tour of the country giving entertainments in various theaters. She sang a part of "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life."

Charles Brubeck had just opened a new picture show. Virginia Robinson was the ticket seller; Leroy Bethard, Harry Bottorff, and Clifford Brent were the ushers that I recognized.

William Martin had married a New York actress and was now paying alimony. He was shown asking the advice of Bill Wethington, his lawyer.

The last thing that flashed on the screen was a large hospital. Robert Blemler was the head doctor. His special nurse was Wilma Nordsiek. At the present time he was attending to a case. Helen Bandy, a well-known leader in politics, had fallen from the platform of a train. She had become so absorbed in the crowd that came to meet her that she forgot to watch her step. Mavis Dierking and Geneva Wessel were the nurses on duty.

I was very well pleased with what had been shown to me, so I went to the operator and told him that he owned a great show, and then I thanked him for the entertainment.

He smiled and said that he was glad I had enjoyed myself. As he spoke, he handed me a bill for $500.00.

As I started to leave, the operator called to me and said, "Say, I forgot to show you what you will be doing some time in the future."

I answered and said, "Oh that's all right. I know what I will be doing; I will be paying this bill for the rest of my life."

Class Will

Junior Class History

As Freshmen, the class of 1933 was oragnized under standards quite different from those adopted by other classes in their organization. The most outstanding was the system of electing officers annually.

A class party was held in the Senior study hall on March 1, 1930. A treasure hunt was the main attraction of the evening. After that different games were played. The party proved a big success and aided greatly in the payment of class dues.

In the spring a class picnic was held in the hills of Bluff Springs, where everyone had even a better time than he had expected.

As Sophomores, under the sponsorship of Miss Haggerty, we burst forth with all enthusiasm for a year filled with achievements. Our most outstanding victory was winning the athletic ticket-selling contest. This entitled us to a half holiday.

One warm autumn evening the majority of the Sophomore class assembled in the hills of Bluff Springs for a wiener roast. A huge log fire had been built previously, and when we arrived in the early dusk, we found an excellent bed of coals to cook over. After eating, we sat around the camp fire and talked. Someone made a suggestion that we play some games, which was heartily answered by all. Thus, we spent the remainder of the evening.

On May 15 we took our half holiday given to us as a reward for our victory in the ticket-selling contest. We left the high school immediately after school was dismissed at noon en route to the Rushville park, where we enjoyed ourselves in an afternoon of fun. We returned home in the early evening weary but enthusiastic after an afternoon free from studies.

During our third year in high school we took charge of the assembly on November 25. The program was in keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit. One of the two most outstanding features on the program was a radio program broadcast over station BOE, better known as Bored of Education. Junior students represented different members of the faculty and students of other classes. Another feature was a tumbling act given by a group of Junior girls directed by Miss Nemec. These two attractions were heartily accepted by the whole student body as well as by many visitors.

The Junior play "New Brooms," was given February 2. It was a big hit of the season. All the members of the cast worked hard, and the credit for its success should be bestowed upon them as well as upon their director, Miss Brock.

During the sale of the class play tickets, the class was divided into two teams. It was agreed that the winners would be given a party by the losers. As a result the party was given in the Senior Study Hall, February 15, with dancing to music furnished by Dave Alexander's orchestra. Cards furnished entertainment for those who did not dance; the evening was a very pleasant one.

Our class has been a successful one during the past three years and hopes that the coming year will be as successful.

Sophomore Class History

Our memories go back to the day we entered B. H. S. with an enrollment of ninety-five members. After the upper classmen had welcomed us in their usual way, we settled down to our studies and soon became accustomed to the ways and activities of high school.

During our first meeting, we elected the following class officers: Berlyn White as president; Jack Bell as vice-president; Marguerite Hill as secretary; and Marjorie Martin as treasurer. We selected red and white as our class colors, the carnation for our class flower, and chose "Not on the heights, but climbing" as our class motto.

We ranked second in the contest for the sale of athletic season tickets, and we ranked third in the Tiger sale contest. We won second prize for the most original stunt in the Hallowe'en parade.

Early in our Sophomore year a meeting of the class was held in order to reorganize. The officers elected were: President, Richard Rink; Vice-President, Berlyn White; Secretary, Ivan Lee Alloway, and Treasurer, Kermit Green.

In the latter part of the year our treasurer, Kermit Green, moved away. Evelyn Martin was elected to fill his place and assumed the work of the office immediately.

Floyd Webster and Jack Bell have proven a success in basketball. Floyd Webster was elected to be captain of the team for our Junior year. We have been well represented in Glee Club and have several members in the high school orchestra.

The class won the athletic ticket selling contest which gave us a half holiday. This we spent in the park at Rushville. We are proud to say that Evelyn Martin won the individual prize in the Tiger sale.

Our class party was held on February 12, which was in keeping with St. Valentine's Day.

Freshman Class History

Ah, is that you I see sitting beside your fireplace? Now you adjust your glasses and are taking up your knitting or your clay pipe. But—what's this!—are you remembering?

Do you remember that first class meeting in the B. H. S. assembly on September 18, 1931? Miss Schaeffer, our class sponsor, presided over the meeting. We elected 18, 1931? Miss Schaeffer, our class sponser, presided over the meeting. We elected officers to hold offices during our Freshman year. Dick Schultz was elected president; Nellie Jump, Vice-President; Jean Kendall, Secretary and Junior Haber, Treasurer. A social committee was also appointed, and our class dues were decided at sixty cents a year or fifteen cents a quarter. Orchid and yellow were decided upon for our colors and the snapdragon for our flower.

Then came the Freshman Carnival. You came to the dear old B. H. S. and raced up the walk talking excitedly to your companions. You entered the door and gave your nickel to the doorkeepers and strained eagerly to catch a glimpse of the magic gym beyond. The doorkeeper gave you your ticket, and you ran down the steps to join with the laughter and talking inside. The wall was lined with various booths, and the light globes were decorated in our class colors, orchid and yellow. Your friends rushed up to you and told you to go into the crazy house or play ping-pong or take in any of the various entertainments. You bought yourself a lollypop or a hotdog and stood laughing while the teachers and pupils tried driving nails in a chunk of wood at one blow. Then you spent the rest of the time dancing to the music of the "Ritzy Five."

In December a new social staff was appointed.

Then do you remember the kid party? You came to the party looking ridiculously kiddish in children's clothing. You walked to the Senior study hall, which, since it was near Washington's birthday, was decorated in red, white and blue. It was crowded with funmakers, and the "Ritzy Five" again furnished the merry music.

What a success that party was! You spent your time wandering through the gay laughing group of people, made your way to the table where lollypops and hot-dogs were being sold, then, caught by the spirit of festival, danced, played cards, or did anything in keeping with this dashing, carefree gang. As the strains of "Turkey in the Straw" came to you, your classmates joined hands and did a folk dance, the clapping and stamping of which could be heard for a block around.

Approximately climaxing our Freshman year was the April Fool's assembly. Wasn't that nifty? I'll bet the upper classmen are still smarting from the joke we played on them.

But now, what is that dreamy look doing in your eye? Why is that half-sad smile on your face? Quick, before they notice it; your pipe has gone out, and your knitting needles are lying on the floor.

DRAMATICS

"A Prince There Was"

Charles Martin has too much money to spend but nothing to occupy his mind. One day he meets a young girl by the name of Comfort who is looking for Jack Carruthers, editor of a magazine. Her purpose is to persuade him to buy a story that a friend of hers has written. Martin becomes interested and moves to the Prouty Boarding House where Miss Woods, the authoress, is staying. As no one knows Charles' correct name and Comfort has heard of his once being a prince of a fellow she calls him Mr. Prince. Because of the affection of these two, Martin begins to reform. The climax is reached when it is discovered that Miss Woods is a well known novel writer, who has moved to the boarding house to get atmosphere for her new story which was bought by Martin.

This presentation was given by the graduating class in their Junior year, under the direction of Miss Maltas.

"That Ferguson Family"

A story of a very ordinary American family, which is ruled by a sharp tongued mother. Each member of the family is unhappy and discontented because he is not allowed to live his own life. The children finally break away from their home environment causing their mother grief, but nevertheless teaching her a lesson.

This was the annual Senior play presented November 18, 1931 under the direction of Miss Maltas.

"The College Hobo"

Our pride in the Agriculture Club grows with the years. Their play of this season, "The College Hobo," is another source of pride for us. Each one taking part in this exceptionally fine presentation showed his dramatic ability in a most praiseworthy manner.

The play was under the able direction of Miss Maltas with whom the cast worked with pleasure.

The theme is of a girl, Sally Sims, who is attending college on funds coming from an unknown source. She is accused of having stolen the money. This accusation, however does not cause her to lose the respect and belief of her friends. The Hobo, who is in love with Sally, finds that she is not guilty through a marked bill which he finds in the hands of Johnny, a boy in Sally's home town. It is learned that the Hobo is of a wealthy family and has been supplying the college funds.

Important Assemblies

SOPHOMORE PROGRAM, DECEMBER 23, 1930

The program was in the form of a play in which a group of young people were practicing for a Christmas presentation. There were numbers by a Sophomore band, carol singing by the girls and special numbers given by members of the class including vocal and instrumental solos and a humorous reading.

JUNIOR PROGRAM, NOVEMBER 23, 1931

The student body was presented with a "Radio Program" on the morning of November 23. We learned of the great talents of our Junior class by means of microphone and television. Miss Crook (Vinetta Haist) brought her little pupils to perform at the "Broadcasting Station."

A striking tumbling act was given by the Junior girls under the direction of Miss Nemec.

SENIOR PROGRAM, FEBRUARY 9, 1932

The program in memory of George Washington was opened with a group of selections by the Senior orchestra. Several numbers were given by members of the class, all of which were in keeping with the day. The main feature was a pageant portraying scenes from the life of Washington, read by Helen Leonhard and acted out by a group of students. The Senior chorus furnished songs during the entertainment.

FRESHMAN PROGRAM, APRIL 1, 1932

The wild shouting of newsboys distributing extras of the "The Freshman Squeal" (A fair deal for none. Special privileges for all) opened the April Fool assembly Friday afternoon. A clever and amusing program followed including dancing and a melodrama and ending with an invisible and inaudible chorus.

MUSIC

Girls' Glee Club

The Girl's Glee Club was organized last fall, under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Smith. They meet every Friday morning at eight o'clock for forty-five minutes of vocal instruction.

The contest chorus, which participates in the sub-district activities early in the Spring, is chosen from this group.

The Senior chorus meets on each Wednesday morning. They are looking forward to a busy Spring.

Another division of the Girls' Glee Club is the Freshmen chorus which meets once a week.

That the splendid training received from their instructor, Mrs. Smith, is appreciated by every member is shown by their promptness and interest in the practice periods.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club consisting of forty-five voices began its work the second semester of this school year. Their practice periods, which occur each Thursday evening at seven o'clock, are conducted by the members with Mr. Hauswald as advisor. They are studying four-part music of a semi-classical nature, and are working for improvement in sight reading. The boys finished their year's study with a minstrel which was given early in April.

The group have gained a more true and thorough understanding of music through the excellent supervision of Mr. Hauswald.

They joined their efforts with the girls to make this year's operetta, "The Pennant," a success.

BEARDSTOWN HIGH
BAND

The Band

Another fruitful year for one of the most outstanding organizations of the school has finished. The band of this year owes the greater part of its success to the director, Mr. Petersen. Our band leader found a place in the hearts of his boys and girls immediately. He organized them into a group which takes an active and whole hearted interest in the work. In order that our band might improve as well as increase its knowledge of other musical organizations, Mr. Petersen has taken groups of his pupils to hear the outstanding concerts and programs of other communities.

We, of the High School, have seen the quality of the band work in the presentation given us during the year. The public learned of their splendid work through the Music Festival which was held on the evening of December 22, 1931. The groups and soloists taking special parts were examples of the effort put forth by the members of the band.

When school began last fall the band was composed of forty-five members. At the beginning of the second term its membership had increased. Now there are ninety enrolled.

They have found encouragement in having every day practice which occurs the fifth period.

A great deal of time has been spent on the Rushville-Beardstown Band concert which was a great success and on the contest held in Jacksonville, April 17, and they won and deserved the praise of the whole school when they took first place in the State contest at Champaign.

The contest band has almost perfect instrumentation including oboe, bassoon, alto clarinet, bass clarinet, piccolo, flutes, E flat clarinets, besides the ordinary instruments.

This committee under the supervision of Miss Nemec and Miss Brodman were responsible for the enjoyable social events of the year Each member was the chairman of a committee which was selected when an entertainment was being planned.

A different committee for each party served under its chairman and Miss Brodman.

The Social Committee was a new organization this year and we are assured of its success by the popularity of the various parties, which they have sponsored, the Hallowe'en Masquerade, the Christmas party, and three parties after Christmas.

Again in this year the long standing organization known as the "B" club was organized.

The qualifications for membership are the same as always. Each member must be the owner of a "B" won by hard work either in track, basketball, or football.

Although this club has not given any parties, dances, or social entertainments of any kind, we feel its presence in B. H. S. by the good sportsmanship and clean playing that it promotes.

The local chapter of the Future Farmers of America was organized in 1929 and is a charter member of the Illinois State organization which is also affiliated with the National Organization. Randall Hart of our Club is now Vice-President of the National F. F. A. and made a trip to Washington, D. C. in April to meet with the national executive committee. He was one of five boys from Illinois elected to the degree of American Farmer because of achievements in his vocational agriculture in high school. The local chapter wishes him well in his future work as an agricultural leader.

A state Judging Contest is held each June at Champaign (University of Illinois) to which are sent teams to judge fat stock, dairy cattle, poultry, corn and small grain. Last year at this contest James Avery and Roscoe Reichert won 6th place ribbon as a team in small grain judging. February 12, 1932, Clifford Wallace won first place ribbon, while he and Clyde Vallery won third place ribbon as individual and team respectively in small grain judging at a sectional judging contest held at Winchester, Ill. On May 4, 1932 twelve boys went to a sectional fat stock and dairy judging contest held at Jerseyville, Ill.

The local F. F. A. boys sowed three acres of lespedeza on the Ehrhardt estate just back of the high school building as an educational project for the entire community.

A number of boys broadcasted an agricultural program April 21, 1932 from WCBS., Springfield, Illinois.

Junior-Senior Prom

The halls were filled with the "What will you wear?" and "Whom are you going with?" discussions of many students, until that eventful day of May 19 finally arrived.

Gay people thronged the halls that evening until the doors to Iceland were opened. The scene thus revealed caused a veritable chorus of "ahs" and "ohs". Everyone found his seat by hunting polar bears. This was not a hunt to kill bears, but merely to find a particular bear on a cake of ice bearing one's name.

As they gazed around the room, the guests were thrilled by large icebergs looming up, and were fascinated by the beautiful northern lights. The white stars presented an alluring contrast shining forth from a deep blue sky.

When their wondering gaze returned to the table, the guests were more aware of little details, which had before escaped their attention. An igloo had been placed in the center of each table, with a little pond in front of it. Besides the place cards at each place, there were also kyacks filled with nuts.

The waitresses entered, dressed like eskimos in their furry white costumes and hoods, bringing the courses of the meal. During the dinner varied entertainment was provided including toasts, songs, and dances.

Our journey in Iceland was finally brought to an end by dancing to that beautiful strain of music, "Home Sweet Home," played by Morrie Craig and his orchestra.

This is the first year that Beardstown High School has been represented in the Illinois High School Debating League. We have not won all debates, but have gained much experience from our participation in this activity.

Miss Brock has graciously spent much time and effort in developing our debating team.

The members of the affirmative team are Esther Wetherell, Mylo Roberts, Robert Madden and Henry Dufelmeier. The negative team consists of George Dooling, Maurice Corcoran, and Milton McClure.

The affirmative team debated with Carthage and Jacksonville. The schedule for the negative team was as follows: Jacksonville, Cuba, and Carthage.

The Commercial Contest

Every year the best students in shorthand, typewriting, and bookkeeping are chosen to represent B. H. S. at the different contests. There are three people on a team, and usually one of these enters the individual's contest. A fourth person goes as a substitute.

In 1931 the second year shorthand team consisted of Doris Newbern, Mardell Moles, Virginia Wick, and Gretchen Hansmeyer. The first year team included Hope Trone, Maxine Harn, Dorothy Wright, and Lela Hulett. The second year typing team consisted of Earl Cokenour, Earlee Steadman, Helen Knippenberg, and Faye Walls, while Virginia Robinson, Frances Haist, Dorothy Nieman, Hazel Brown, and Wilma Nordsiek made up the first year typing team. Wilbur Speaker, Phyllis Jokisch, and Mary Jane Preckwinkle were entered for the bookkeeping team.

At Industry, Beardstown won first place in everything except bookkeeping, in which we won second place. This ranking entitled us to go to Macomb for the sectional contest. At Macomb, Hope Trone won second in first year shorthand, Doris Newbern won first in the 90 word and also first in the 100 word dictation; and both of the shorthand teams won second place. In typing the first year team won second, and the second year won fourth. Virginia Robinson and Earl Cokenour won honors in the typing event. The bookkeeping team was awarded fourth place, and Wilbur Speaker had the highest score of anyone from Beardstown.

Much credit should be given to Doris Newbern for her skill in shorthand as she won sixth place against many competitors in the State contest.

Beardstown has always gained high honors in the Commercial contests, and therefore B. H. S. always expects good results each year from the Commercial Department.

President	Frances Haist

The Girls' Athletic Association of the Beardstown High School was organized in 1930 by girls interested in athletics.

To become a member a girl must earn 100 points playing tennis, hiking, bicycling, skating, swimming, or in various other sports and stunts. The points are earned by her own initiative and devotion of time. When a girl becomes a member, she is awarded a G. A. A. "B."

Every fall the G. A. A. has its annual overnight hike. This year we went to Gravel Pit, and in spite of the mosquitoes we had a glorious time.

This year we sponsored a Play Day. Rushville, Chandlerville, and Ashland High Schools each sent twelve girls. The day was spent in playing games, and getting better acquainted with our neighboring high school students. This proved a great success.

The purpose of the club is to teach a girl to play for the pleasure she will derive from it.

Football Games

PEORIA MANUAL 25—BEARDSTOWN 0

The first game of B. H. S. football to be played under lights, on their field.

WHITE HALL 14—BEARDSTOWN 0

The opening home game of the season and a real one! Although the boys were beaten, they showed good prospects for the future.

JACKSONVILLE 14—BEARDSTOWN 6

We met our third defeat of the year at the hands of Jacksonville. Hunt made the only marker for B. H. S.

BUSHNELL 39—BEARDSTOWN 0

Five of our regulars were out, and the team suffered greatly from the opponents. Caldwell and Blemler showed their stuff here.

MACOMB 6—BEARDSTOWN 8

Our first victory of the season! The 70 yard run by Captain Jack Schultz in the last two minutes of play proved a thriller. B. H. S. scored in the first quarter with a safety. Beemer's first game and can he tackle!

INDUSTRY 0—BEARDSTOWN 12

Our first victory on the home field. Schultz made both scores, one in the first quarter and the other in the last. All played good games, with Schultz, Munger, Goodell and Beemer starring.

VIRGINIA 12—BEARDSTOWN 7

Captain Schultz made his longest run of the year, 105 yards for the touchdown. In spite of this Virginia left the field with honors.

QUINCY 31—BEARDSTOWN 0

With Captain Schultz and Bud Buck out, the game was disastrous for B. H. S. Schultz will have to quit jumping fences.

RUSHVILLE 31—BEARDSTOWN 6

Rushville took revenge for last year's defeat before the largest local crowd of the year. Blemler's playing at end was a wonderful sight throughout the game. The last football game, so watch out for the basketball team.

The Varsity

Coach Holt and his basketball squad should be highly praised and congratulated upon their success this year. Mr. Holt has displayed fine leadership and skill in coaching. The team showed sportsmanship and playing ability of a high quality.

The B. H. S. won twenty-two games out of thirty-three and two tournaments out of four. Coach Holt produced a District winner which also took second place in the Sectional.

To Captain Willis Munger should go a great deal of the credit for his team's successful season. All the members of the team thought of him as a great leader, a stellar guard, and a real fellow.

Along side of Captain Munger at guard was Schultz whose fighting spirit was an important factor in the season's record.

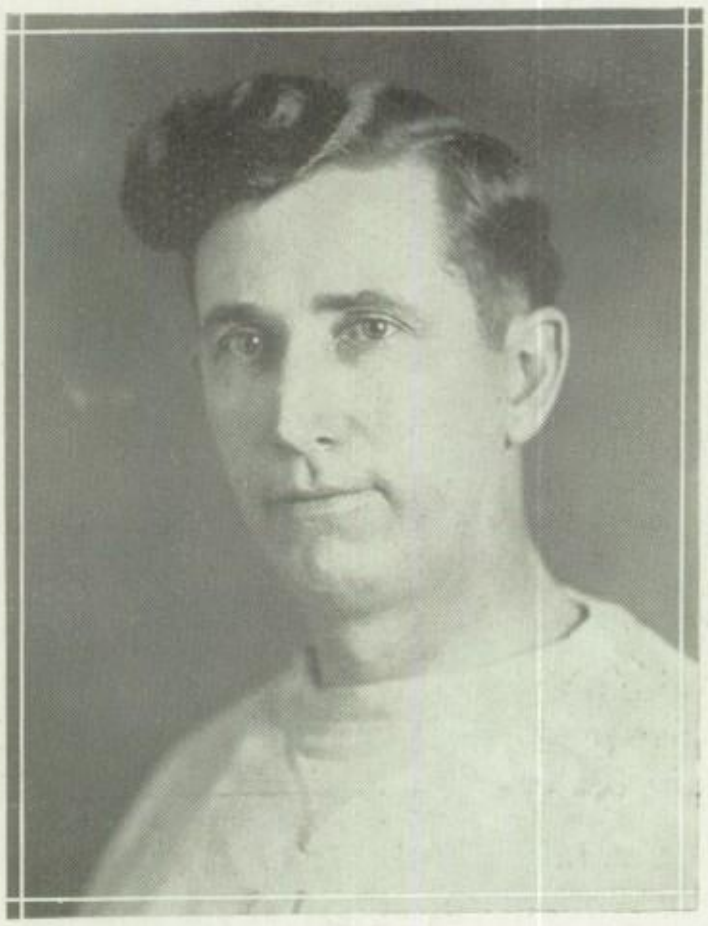
Webster, who looked better than ever this year, was elected captain for next year. His ability and leadership brought upon him this honor. Watch him go next year.

This was probably Adkins' best season at basketball. His almost unerring eye for the wicket, and fine floor work made him an outstanding man.

Krohe took care of the other forward berth and handled it in great style. Krohe is a great shot and great floor man.

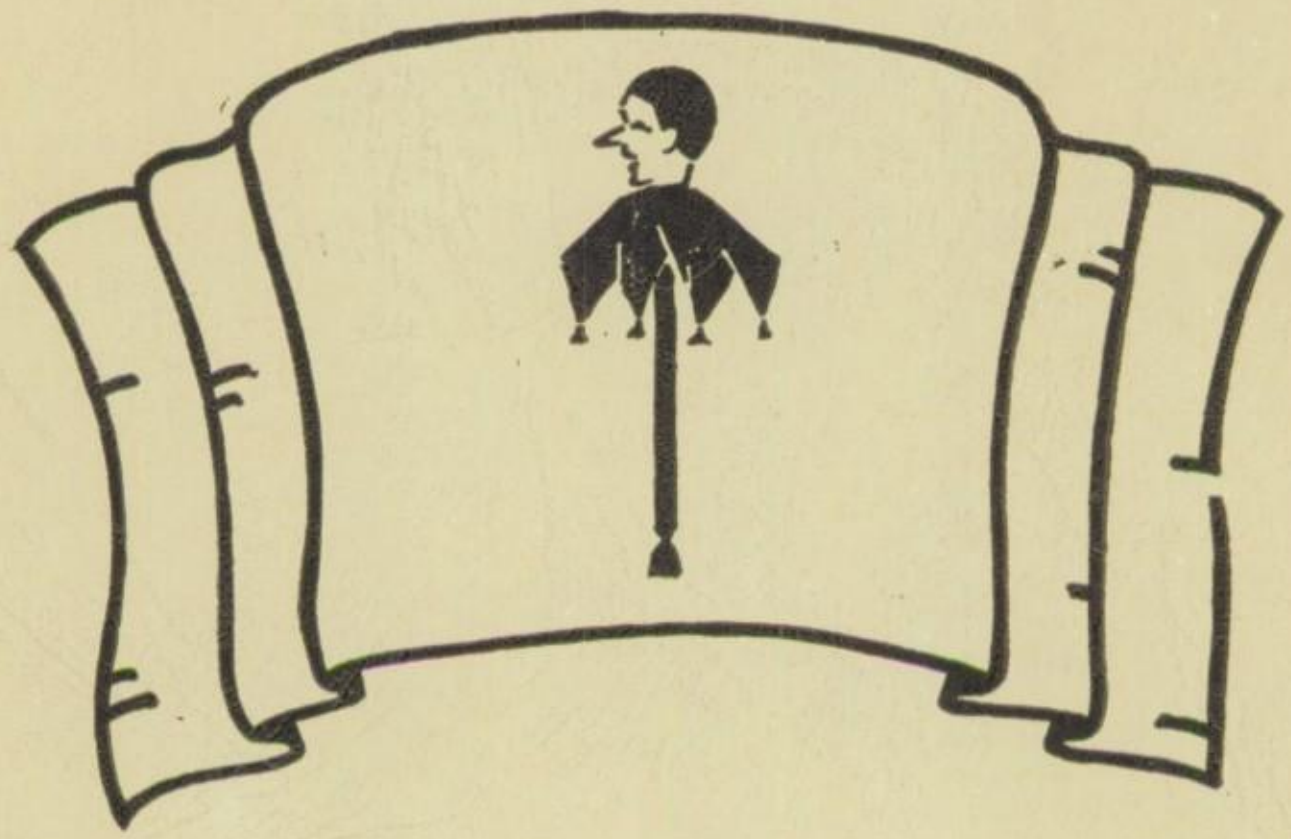
Haber, although he didn't start in many games, usually got in and gave a real account of himself. Everybody remembers his basket at Springfield against Payson which probably gave B. H. S. victory.

We cannot overlook Blemler, Glenn, and Bell who were always there ready to be thrown into the fray.



To Coach Holt

Whose high standards of clean playing and good sportsmanship have caused our team to win the good will of their opponents and to fight until the end of the game before they recognized either victory or defeat; who has been ready to co-operate with other activities, and whose pleasing personality will always be remembered; we dedicate this page.



JOKES

School Calendar

Aug. 27—Juniors and Seniors register today. All glad to see one another. Each telling and exaggerating about his vacation.

Aug. 28—Sophomores and Freshies register. Freshies look lost and bewildered.

Sept. 1—They're off! A nine month marathon. Will 4 o'clock ever come? Holt is begging for experienced football men. Boys practice. Holt still looks worried.

Sept. 2—Beginning to get systematized. Say football team will have to be light but fast thinkers. How can they with Schultz, Munger and McIntosh on there? ? ? ?

Sept. 3—Mr. Sexton going great. Things seem familiar. Getting settled too soon. Fat Mathews has to reduce to get a football suit.

Sept. 4—Green still a prominent color. Upper classmen looking around for an assembly. No signs yet. J. Adkins wants to know if we go to school on Labor Day. He thought it meant a day of work. P. S. Adkins is a Senior.

Sept. 8—Back again. Newness is wearing off. Freshies are shining shoes in hall. Brockschmidt and Puckhaber look worried; say it hurts their business.

Sept. 9—Seniors still have dignified look and walk. Freshies still running wild. In fact 140 wild 'uns.

Sept. 10—Football men are acting as if they are stiff. Holt makes a cut of his original 60 men. School back to normal.

Sept. 11—The fog has lifted. We had an Assembly. Everybody happy. Lots of strangers out here. Be glad when they lose that timid look.

Sept. 14—"The harder they come the harder they fall;" thus many students are dropping tough subjects.

Sept. 15—First Bank Day. Low percentages, remind us of hard times. Farmers look happy; maybe those "crops" needed the rain.

Sept. 16—We heard this morning that Miss Haggerty died last night. This was certainly a sudden blow.

Sept. 17—School very quiet. Classes let out at 10:15 so we can get to Miss Haggerty's funeral at Glassford, Ill.

Sept. 18—Friday, our favorite day. Had a short assembly. Football team leaves at 1:00 o'clock for Peoria. Hope they have good luck.

Sept. 21—Got beat! But not downhearted; you know Peoria has a tough bunch. Peoria pop.—105,791.

Sept. 22—Teacher's pet; ask J. Adkins how those big, red, shiny apples are affecting Miss Brock.

Sept. 23—God's gift to women, the CULVER boy (J. Glenn). Teachers bearin' down on us.

Sept. 24—Holt gets more bad news; R. McIntosh operated on for appendicitis. English 4 makes many gridmen ineligible.

Sept. 25—Whoopee, Friday again. Assembly lasted almost 39½ minutes. Lots of confusion over assembly seating. Munger moved eight times and finally found his seat. Mr. Holt explained downs, offsides, etc., to the Freshmen. White Hall game here tomorrow.

Sept. 28—Were beaten by White Hall's experienced eleven. Izzy Hagener wants to know if an 8 o'clock is a compliment for good work?

Sept. 29—Many class representatives are trying to sell athletic tickets; but dollar bills are as scarce as snowballs in ——. (June)

Sept. 30—Many vacant seats this afternoon; guess World Series came in well on the radio.

Oct. 1—Upper classmen are growling because the lowly Sophs won the ticket selling contest AND the half holiday. Oh, well these young kids need a rest.

Oct. 2—This is some school for pep; not even an assembly before the Jacksonville game. The latest: J. Brockschmidt and M. Simpson stand out as corn shuckers for the Ag. Club.

Oct 5—B. H. S. defeated by Jacksonville; 14-6. They sure made whoopee in Jacksonville last Saturday. Their first victory in three years; why shouldn't they celebrate?

Oct. 6—Bank Day! Percentages still low. Miss Brock to B. Strong: "Brines, what is the Jewish flag? B. S.: "A ten dollar bill."

Oct. 7—B. H. S. plays Bushnell in first conference fray this Friday.

Oct. 8—Everybody happy; no school 'til Monday. Have a short assembly at 3:56 for Bushnell game tomorrow. Well, so-long until Monday.

Oct. 9—Teachers' Institute at Virginia.

Oct. 12—First conference game and another Waterloo. Bushnell marched through us at a 39-0 rate. O, well, the first four games are always the worst. Watch 'em go now.

Oct. 13—"Loppy" Schweer asked Miss Jacobson what color of flag they had on the north pole.

Oct. 14—Bad news. "F" slips are slipped out. Most of us found out who wears the pants at home.

Oct. 15—Mike Myers can't figure out who has the most smoke, "Lefty" Grove or that bon-fire builder from Penn. Have you noticed that concentrating look on Mike's face? No, it's not studies.

Oct. 16—Another short assembly and small pep talk for the Macomb game tomorrow. Something (a little) was said about a football game?

Oct. 18—VICTORY, at last! Beat Macomb 8-6 in a hard-fought battle. Ask Schultz why he was so "pooped" after he made that 70 yard run? ? ? ?

Oct. 20—Hear rumors of a Hallowe'en party. Hope this is a good tip. Tips caused depression though???

Oct. 21—John Buck is in need of a kiss. He walked over to the pencil sharpener with the sign on his back "Kiss Me." There's your chance, girls.

Oct. 22—H. Youngren to Mr. Sexton in advanced Algebra: "If x equals y, how long would it take a one-legged grasshopper to cover a dog house with pancakes?" By the way Harrison is a post-graduate.

Oct. 23—Oh! Boy another assembly. The advanced agent told of the Passion Play. W. Munger told about the football boys' secret passions. That afternoon every girl in H. S. was at the Industry game here.

Oct. 26—Beat Industry: 12-0. The boys have looked fine in the last two games.

Oct. 27—Everybody has his nose in a book for exams. Teachers, if you were ever kind hearted, be there now!

Oct. 28—Started decorating for the Hallowe'en party. W. Edson says, "B. H. S. color and Hallowe'en's are the same." There is a lot of truth in that; they play pranks at both places.

Oct. 29—Had a good assembly for the Virginia game. Exams started; enough said.

Oct. 30—Friday. Exams end at noon. Go to Virginia in the afternoon for game. Hallowe'en party that night, great success. Alexander and his "balloon chasers" furnished the music.

Nov. 2—The boys played a hard game in the mud at Virginia, but lost, 12-7. Schultz made another sensational touchdown and run of 105 yards.

Nov. 3—Cards???? Oh! for a happy home to sleep in tonight.

Nov. 4—Second quarter begins and most of the students are down for the count of nine all ready.

Nov. 5—New teacher! All of the fellows are talking about his new wife. But all the girls are talking of Mr. Mosher's black romantic eyes.

Nov. 6—Had a long assembly. Guess teachers felt guilty about hard exams, so thought they would give us a rest. Have a night game at Quincy tonight.

Nov. 9—The boys had a little tough luck at Quincy under those blamed lights. But remember Schultz and Buck were sitting on the sidelines with injuries.

Nov. 10—Still like Spring. Have a big rally tonight for the annual battle with Rushville tomorrow afternoon. (The rally was a huge success.)

Nov. 11—Armistice Day; but we are still here battling. Big game this afternoon with old foe, Rushville.

Nev. 12—Well, the Schuylerites beat us 31-6, on a mud-soaked field. It turned out to be a rough battle; it didn't look as if the armistice was signed right.

Nov. 13—Friday the 13th. But Driver is gone so we don't hear much superstitious talk.

Nov. 16—Bill DeSollar has a sore leg. Says he fell down; Helen Leonard's front steps are rather steep.

Nov. 17—Another Bank Day! Maybe the depression is over. More 'chips' fell anyway.

Nov. 18—Glen Miller went huntin'. Getting ready for Thanksgiving.

Nov. 19—Still cold. Werner Edson still wearing three coats.

Nov. 20—Friday here at last. All anxious for the days (daze) of rest.

Nov. 23—Can't say we lost a game this Monday. You know football season is over.

Nov. 24—Basketball practice started last night. Deak' Brown wanted to know what we did with the iron hoops at each end of the floor.

Nov. 25—No school 'til Monday, so won't say much.

Nov. 30—Back from Thanksgiving vacation. Everyone looks as though he were well fed.

Dec. 1—Teeter Martin asked R. Alloway if he was in love or just looked that way all the time.

Dec. 2—Miss Brock grooming the debate team. Has big hopes for little lawyers.

Dec. 3—Tryouts for Junior play—'nough said.

Dec. 4—Don't spit in the classrooms. Adkins, this means you.

Dec. 7—Beardstown comes through and tramps Bluffs, 31 to 11. Good start, gang, keep it up.

Dec. 8—Had an assembly. Miss Schaefer of McMurray College gave impersonations. J. Brockschmidt got up with the Senior girls when they were excused to talk with Miss Schaefer.

Dec. 9—Beat Colchester last night 9-7 in one of the closest battles ever fought on the local floor.

Dec. 10—By the way, Capt. Munger was ousted from the first game on fouls, and carried 3 fouls to the finish in the second game.

Dec. 11—B. H. S. cagers go to Chandlerville's cracker box tonight. B. Dieterich's hair is now the proper length for a second Beethoven.

Dec. 14—The team had a hard battle in Chandlerville's abbreviation, but finally won 19-15. Seniors have party.

Dec. 15—The gang goes to Ashland tonight. They are supposed to have a tough bunch over there. The Freshmen are writing letters to Santa Claus.

Dec. 16—The gang lost a double-header at Ashland last night. It was the first defeat of the season. Score: First team, B. H. S., 24; A. H. S., 28. Second team, B. H. S., 6; A. H. S., 17.

Dec. 17—B. Langdon: Kid, you heard the one about the Scotchman who lost an arm in the war because he hated to throw a hand grenade away. W. Munger: No, go ahead and tell it.

Dec. 18—Had an assembly. John Adkins just shook a steady; incidently Christmas is seven days away.

Dec. 21—M. Hunt in history: Did Hoover work his way through the electoral college. BONG. Lost second of year to a hot Virginia crew, 26-17.

Dec. 22—Big B. H. S. Christmas party last night, consequently many yawns and headaches this morning.

Dec. 23—Oh, Boy, paroled for 13 days. Everyone has had enough for this year.

Jan. 4—Most of the teachers are over their hangovers from New Year's Eve, and aren't very grouchy.

Jan. 5—Santy was good to Munger! He hasn't worn the army shirt this year. Seems too good to last.

Jan. 6—Coach Holt inaugurated the '32 season by spanking Mt. Sterling 27-10. Mt. Sterling's still looking for a field goal.

Jan. 7—M. McClure went down the hall singing "It's Great To Be In Love." Hmm! I wonder what this means?

Jan. 8—Bi-county started last night. Browning and Chandlerville eliminated by Beardstown and Jacksonville.

Jan. 11—Whoopee! Won Bi-county by tapping Jacksonville 21-18.

Jan. 12—Hear rumors of tests. That explains the extra studying.

Jan. 13—Jacksonville gets revenge and taps the "Striped Jug." Win by big margin of 29-8.

Jan. 14—TESTS and Blues. Oh! why didn't we study last quarter?

Jan. 15—The great thing about tests is here: Half HOLIDAY.

Jan 18—Got revenge on Quincy for last year at Sectional. Beat them 23-9 last Friday. M. Simpson was seen peddling peanuts at the game; Oh! well any way to make a living.

Jan. 19—The reason that McClure whistles so much is at Locker 179. (We go by numbers out here).

Jan. 20—More revenge at Virginia last night; to the tune of 20-11. A new set of books must have come out on basketball.

Jan. 21—All the farmers are smiling; perhaps wheat has gone up a couple of points.

Jan. 22—Friday at last. All ready for the 2-day shut down on brain cells.

Jan. 25—Munger and Company stock dropped 2 pionts, when Beardstown lost 39-22 at Mt. Pulaski.

Jan. 26—Some bright Soph. wanted to know why Caesar didn't use English when he said, "Et tu Brute."

Jan. 27—F. Schweer says the peanut peddler (Simpson) is beating his time. He found peanut shells on F. H.'s sofa.

Jan. 28—Juniors had class meeting and elected George Dooling for new vice-president.

Jan. 29—Big hop at the high school. Stag Line, here we come.

Feb. 1—Close call but when the smoke cleared away the boys had knocked Monmouth in the head in a real thriller. Score: 15-12.

Feb. 2—Ground Hog came out and decided to stay with us despite the depression; big rain.

Feb. 3—Junior play was big success. Seniors are now due for a good feed at the reception. Miss Brock brought out real talent.

Feb. 4—Bob Frey has got a long face. Says he counted up and it will be 5 months 'fore he can shoot firecrackers.

Feb. 5—Walloped Industry 26-18 in R. H. S. Invitational tourney.

Feb. 8—Beat Browning 29-18 on Saturday afternoon, then lost 20-19 to Rushville, that night in finals. First time B. H. S. ever lost R. H. S. Tourney.

Feb. 9—Had a 5 minute assembly yesterday. Seniors announced start of Annual Sale. Half-holiday is prize the under-classmen wish they had a chance to win.

Feb. 10—Scrubs lost to Browning firsts in an overtime: 42-32. REASON: Stoney Glenn was held on the side lines.

Feb. 11—Spring is here. Dorothy Meyer wore anklets today. Oh! well "fo 'give" these Sophs.

Feb. 12—Sophs have shin-dig of their own tonight. Upper classmen chaperone it.

Feb. 15—Monmouth rallies and evens the count by score of 18-14. Tough luck, fellows, but wait until the District ? ? ? ?

Feb. 16—Juniors had their class party tonight. Mr. Hauswald was in his prime as chief bouncer.

Feb. 17—R. Rink blinked twice and sprawled in the hall. Maybe he's practicing to 'hit that line.'

Feb. 18—ATTENTION: Ted Krohe and Rudy Lancaster are planning on boxing for the gnat-weight championship of B. H. S.

Feb. 19—Seniors give assembly in honor of Washington Bi-Centenial; "Parley-voo" was the theme song.

Feb. 22—'Fan my brow', another assembly. Mr. Spencer tells us about Jap-Chinese affair. Lost game to Ashland in last 5 seconds. Score 21-20.

Feb. 23—Gee, the days are beginning to drag. Well, brighter days are in view. In fact 3 months of them.

Feb. 24—Bath washed the boys off to the color of 25-19. Makes 19 straight washes for Bath.

Feb. 25—Looks like rain. Oh! well we like "Rain on the Roof."

Feb. 26—Tug Martin and Bill Cowen have got Betty Englund, "In Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea."

Feb. 29—B. H. S. cracked R. H. S. 24-23 to make the count 2 out of 3 in favor of B. H. S. Leap Year Day and the old stag line waiting for proposals.

March 1—Tennis weather is here and attendance reports show it.

March 2—Bank Day yesterday but few "chips" crossed the bar.

March 3—Scene changes. Teachers have to go to Springfield. We are paroled for three days, so will see you Monday.

March 7—Holt beats old proteges 27-15 at Lewistown. Guard the books for the District Tourney.

March 8—Georgia Howey dropped a dime in the hall. When the smoke cleared 'Jake' Goodell and Lyn Krohe were found laying unconscious.

March 9—Tourney starts! Industry, Chandlerville, and Virginia win in first rounds of tourney.

March 10—Tourney going great. Beardstown, Versailles and Hersman win in second rounds.

March 11—No school this afternoon on account of tourney. Chandlerville, Bardolph and Virginia win in afternoon quarter finals. Beardstown and Bardolph win in semi-finals.

March 14—Beardstown wins the tourney by doubling the score on Bardolph, 28-14. This oughta' bring an assembly.

March 15—George Emerick says all the girls are getting weak necks from shaking their heads 'no' at him. Cruel world!

March 16—Seniors are trying to struggle thru Macbeth. Much extra studying for exams.

March 17—EXAMS START and teachers show little mercy. B. H. S. came thru by trapping Payson in Section 20-21, due to Munger's (and 4 other fighting men) last basket.

March 18—Big supply of smelling salts sold to revive students from exams. Also for battle with Bath. B. H. S. returns washing to bath, score 21-20. (Bath only undefeated team in state). Debate team stages battle with Cuba.

March 21—B. H. S. outplayed by strong Springfield Five; 32-15. Curtain is drawn for basketball players.

March 22—Spring is here. Big snow storm. Some fellows turned poets and went walking in the woods, got snowbound.

March 23—B. Martin has a spring attack of love. (Seen in Lover's Lane with H. A.—Soph. ? ? ? ? ?)

March 24—Teachers pass out report cards and students pass out colder than a "croppie."

March 25—This is sure Good Friday. No school.

March 28—Holt issues call for track men, and has good response. Fat Matthews says he is a 10 second man. (eating a meal).

March 29—Lent is over. Now for some good old high school parties.

March 30—Charles Puckhaber looks like————; his girl (Edna Hill) left town. Pucky's 'moanin' low.'

March 31—Miss Brock is staging try-outs for Literary events.

April 1—Teachers pull April fool tricks and give short assignments. Something rash is sure to happen. Debate team goes to Jacksonville.

April 4—Big Freshman assembly. These Freshmen are some good after all.

April 5—Local tennis stars are over at courts now warming up for a big season.

April 6—Seniors are running around trying to select best invitations.

April 7—Big assembly. T. E. Musselman gave an interesting lecture. But it was too 'deep' for 'Dummie' Hulett. (Lela).

April 8—Minstrel show by Boys' Glee Club. Faces a little blacker than usual.

April 11—Juniors sponsor a swell High School party, for Reception funds. Good, Juniors, we Seniors worried over that once too.

April 12—Rumors of a class track meet. Munger says he has all dashes cinched.

April 13—McCarthy and 'Jess' are still lovers. Ah! me, Ah! my, how 'sappish' Mc acts in Spring, over Jess. (Ask Mc who Jess is ? ? ?)

April 14—Hold tennis tourney for places on tennis team.

April 15—Band soloists go to Sectional at Jacksonville today. Band enters Sectional tomorrow. Good luck, gang!

April 18—Someone put a cartoon of Mr. Holt on the bulletin board, but Holt saw it and had no praise for our young artists.

April 19—We can now go wrapless. The old sun is beginning to beam down.

April 20—Juniors and Seniors taking up astronomy. (Not in classes; at night.)

April 21—Friday will soon be here. A coupla' days of leisure and then back to the old grind. (stone)

April 22—Gym girls give physical education exhibition. Figure's don't lie; lot of strained necks after the show.

April 25—B. H. S. in triangular debate, tonight.

April 26—Literary and commercial meet at Macomb. We have some prospective stenographers out here.

April 27—Page a chaperon. Tom Charles is going 'screwy' over Soph. girls.

April 28—Slickers and boots; light April showers. Hope it helps Simpson's farm.

April 29—Big County meet, to see who is the "cream of the County.'

May 2—Freshmen hold their annual May-pole dance, after upperclassmen go home. Oh! well let the kids have their fun.

May 3—Seniors neck and neck with the Teachers on the home stretch. Hope Seniors win out.

May 4—The farmers all pack up and go to Jerseyville livestock judging contest.

May 5—R. Strohecker's dog came in the halls but went out faster.—(Schnepper's toe.)

May 6—Big West Central meet tomorrow. The 'speed demons' are cocked and primed.'

May 9—State commercial meet held last Saturday. The local squad had stiffer competition.

May 10—Junior-Senior prom. Everybody present. Came early and stayed late. ? ? ? ?

May 11—Operetta. Big success. These opera singers sure hit the high spots in life.

May 12—O. K. vacation. Here we come on the Magic Carpet. (Winchell.)

May 13—Another Music and Literary meet. R. Ausmus hates the Literary part, because it reminds him of English.

May 16—District track meet held at Jacksonville last Saturday.

May 17—Louise Wilson says she likes to see Bud Walker run. (away from her?)

May 18—It's hotter than a 'lil 'lectric toaster' out here; but we study anyway.

May 19—Guard the track books! We want to win the conference trophy.

May 20—Tracksters go to Lewistown today to battle for honors for deah old high.

May 23—Senior Exams. Teachers' last chance to crack it to us, and oh! how they are.

May 24—School exhibit and class night. The nine months labor shows up.

May 25—Last Senior assembly; and farewell speeches.

May 26—Senior Picnic, while the under classmen sweat with tests.

May 27—Seniors walking leisurely through halls, rubbing it in that their work is over.

May 29—Baccalaureate held this afternoon. The time is growing short.

May 31—Commencement today, and our school days are over; "so-long until next year."

B. England—"Men shiver when they stand before my hero."

Tug Martin—"Yeh! What's he do; give out towels in a gym?"

:-: :-: :-: :-: :-:

J. Brockschmidt—"I think the driver in that car ahead must be a teacher I had this year."

Ray Wilson—"What makes you think that?"

J. B.—"Well, she was just as stubborn about letting me pass."

"No matter where I hide," sighed the leopard, "I'm always spotted."

:-: :-: :-: :-: :-:

Charles Puckhaber—Help! Help!

Doc.—What's the matter?

C. P.—I swallowed a dime. Do you see any change in me?

:-: :-: :-: :-: :-:

K. Guelker—"Isn't this an ideal spot for a picnic dinner?"

J. Adkins—"It must be. Fifty million insects can't possibly have made a mistake."

:-: :-: :-: :-: :-:

B. McCarthy—"I can tell you the score of the game before it starts."

L. Hulett—"What is it?"

B. M.—"Nothing to nothing—before it starts."

Spring got hold of one of the boys, his poem follows:

"Do you carrot all for me? My heart beets for you and my love is as soft as squash. But I'm strong as an onion for you're a peach. With your turnip nose and your radish hair you are the apple of my eye. If you cantaloupe with me, lettuce marry anyhow, for I know weed make a peach of a pear.

Cop—Hey, you can't do that!

L. Savage—Why not?

Cop—Well, a right turn is wrong—the left turn is right. If you wanna turn right turn left and then—aw, go ahead.
